PETITIONING THE COURT

To issue a summons.

The probation officer believes that the offender has violated the following condition(s) of supervision:

Violation Number	Nature of Noncompliance
-------------------------	--------------------------------

1	Mandatory Condition : If this judgment imposes a fine or restitution obligation, it shall be a condition of supervised release that the defendant pay any such fine or restitution that remains unpaid at the commencement of the term of supervised release in accordance with the Schedule of Payment set fourth in the Criminal Monetary Penalties section of this judgment.
---	--

Supporting Evidence: Mr. Garcia-Valencia met with Deputy Chief U.S. Probation Officer (USPO) Rebecca M. Nichols on June 3, 2013, and with Supervisory U.S. Probation Officer Jose Vargas on June 11, 2013, and reviewed and signed the conditions of supervised release established in the Judgment and Sentence.

This officer met with Mr. Garcia-Valencia on September 7, 2017, at his residence. He agreed to come to the office the following day, September 8, 2017, and make a payment of $200 or $150 toward his restitution amount; however, the offender has yet to come to the office to remit payment. According to Court records in the District of Oregon where his restitution is owed, it shows his last restitution payment of $100 was made on July 27, 2016.
